On motion of Mr. WILSON, the bill in relation to the arrest of persons claimed as held to service or labor, by officers in the millitary or naval service of the United States, was taken up.

The bill provides that any officer arresting the responsible office to which he was so suddenly, and without his knowledge or procurement, summoned by the President, and by the nation's voice. The difficulties of his position, the embarrassments of questions arising, the amount of labor to be done, the ferocity and strength of the rebellion he has to vanquish, were grouped together in a manner so effective on the sympathy of members who had imbiged prejudices against him, and the modest and steady assurance he manifested of an early and utter overthrow of the rebels, gave confidence to his capacity and generalship that had not before existed.

CHARLES L. NOBLE,

CAMERON'S RESIGNATION The country has assurances in the ap-comment of Mr. Stanton to the War ple concerning great questions and leading measures of policy. No man can doubt, for example, what is the opinion of the people of Illinois as to secession and rebel-ling, and any representation below held which lion; and any representative body which shall try to mislead or betray that feeling, lers, be brought to an end. We do no ple to support with all their power the General Government; and much more, ctions that have made his Department so any who shall seek to urhold the hands, or in any way protect and defend the cause of treason, would be guilty of the grossest he nation. He is a man of great wealththe nation. He is a minute of the institution of the institution of the institution in the institution of th psurpation, the boldest defir usurpation, the boldest defiance of the peo-ple, and of a treachery and crime for which that have unjustly gone to enrich favorites and contractors, he, probable no punishment would be too heavy, no infamy too deep. And of this we may be asand contractors, he, probably, has never had a dime. But he has been cursed with sured, that whatever difference of opinion greedy, importunate and notoriously cor-rupt friends, who have compelled suppression, the people of Illinois look with inexpressible indignation and abhorrence him, by some means, we know not what to permit them to run their hands, upon this conspiracy and rebellion; and elbow deep, into the Treasury as often as their wants or their cupidity demanded. this hour of its need, shall fall to do all he Such fellows as this man Alexander Cumnings, who has gone to Europe to hide and beat down and crush out all who war upon it.
Whatever the skill and study of the Conme and revel in his newly acquired riches, seem to have possessed, used and bused him to their heart's content. We form, and readjusting the several departtempt to break away from the pack, and ments and powers of the State Constitution nothing can be more clear proof of their conscientious fidelity to the trust which is more economy and more faithfulness in his department; but the effort was vain. devolved upon them, than to find out what the wishes and wants of the people are, The jackals who had served him in Pennand seek to make them the end and aim of dency in the Chicago Convention, who put him into the Cabinet, and who fed him with time and strength in devising ways and enator, who supported him for the Presithim into the Cabinet, and who fed him with the belief that the object of his ambition the belief that the object of his ambition and provisions designed solely for individual depended upon their arts, intrigues and

It is the great misfortune of the country that this plain, necessary, common-sense olicy, to which we must at last come, was t adopted in the beginning. That it was not, is not Mr. Cameron's fault. He was the in, above all others in the Cabinet, favor of rapid and decisive moveton, or rather that six month's beleaguerment

Thus endeavoring to do Mr. Cameron justice, we are forced to admit that he has resigned. Restrained by the Administration, he could not carry out the anti-slavery policy to which he was committed; and in the power of triends whom he could not

His successor, whatever his theoretical notions, cannot do less than Mr. Cameron was permitted to do in the way of making the contest earnest and decisve; but, in the matter of money, we know that he has that entire freedom from disreputable complications with political and army jackals, which, with his industry and administrative ability, will enable him to attack and coapable; time must determine whether he has that broad and comprehensive patriotism which will impel him to attack and conquer all obstacles that stand in the way of the unity and indivisibility of the Republic; or whether his allegiance is divided between his country and the worst of its institutions. FOR SALE WHOLESALE AND RETAIL AT THE TRIBUNE OFFICE, remarkable suicide which has taken piace at Napies. A Mr. Kenrick, an elderly gentleman, appears to have been intinate with a Miss Gray, a young and pretty Englishwoman, with whom he has been living at Rome and at Napies. It appears that Mr. Kenrick's relatives in England, who are wealthy, paid no heed, under the circumstances, to his applications for remittances, and that the two thereupon resolved on suicide. From what subsequently transpired, it seems they must have gone directly to the public gardens of the Villa Reale, on the sea-shore, where the offe being open, they took a glass of rum or ruse. 51 Clark Street, Chicago, Ill.

tell the trath, although the responsible man winced somewhat at the compulsion and took the oath very like a dose of salts.

The responsible man thereupon dilated on the moral effect of the music, as many people thought it belonged to the Times office. The editors complained that it seriously interrupted them in their literary pursuits, and alieged that such things were not allowed in Detroit.

The reporters were coposed to that style of of music, and thought that "Dixie" twice the same evening was cutting it altogether too fat; the lively "cricket" then twiried his case and gracefully subsided. The cierks and proof readers never remembered such ansoy-ances in Detroit. The devil was undecided in his notions, but upon general principles was rather of the opinion that Dan Emmet's mu-sic was "a big thing." The "Banshee" could not be prevailed upon to give its evidence, but haisted upon howing among the raffers. demonstrate that a cut of the character of the one upon O'Nell's body could be produced in the cloth or that it could not. The court railed that there could exist no good recon why such experiments should not be made by the witness or any member of the jury. The jury made an examination of the garment and the rents in it, but thinking that it being in a

of them, into coin as they become due, it will be very easy for the bank to make up the difference between the amount of coin on hand and the amount of notes in circulation, and what is due to depositors. But of course they will not be oblige to retire all their circulation, as the people of in diana, and large numbers of them in this State will lay Indiana money aside, and depositors will no isy indiana money aside, and depositors will not withdraw their accounts. The ability with which the State Bank of Indiana has been managed, is worthy of all praise. The people of the West are justly proud of this Western institution.

Wisconsin Morry.—The Traders' Bank, E. I. Tinkham, Eq., Cashior, advertises to sell N. Y. Exchange for Wisconsin money at 1½ per cent. prensium. This is really equivalent to taking the money at 1 per cent. discount.
